

Artist Statement

There are visible, as well as invisible tensions between the unspecified elements of the forms which create their unique synergies that beautifully manifest in our daily life.

From a relationship between nature and urban city life, I try not to miss any unique forms of incidental objects on the street, that participate in a symphony of form and color.

I am fascinated to see how the various combinations of material transform and harmonize the space.

It is my pleasure to explore the quality of different materials as I am curious to find many more unexpected answers.
